

EFFECTIVE ACADEMIC LIBRARIES: A MANAGERIAL APPROACH

STEPHEN T. & MERCY LYDIA D.

Assistant Professor & Head, PG Department of Library & Information Science, Vellalar College for Women, Tamil Nadu, India

ABSTRACT

The role of libraries in the 21st century is really inevitable in the teaching learning process. The librarians and their role in supporting the education especially in the academic institutions is very essential. This paper deals with the effective utilization of libraries and answers the questions raised by the academic heads. It highlights the pain points and suggest ways to improve the performance of libraries in terms of users, services and stakeholders.

KEYWORDS: Academic Libraries, Library Services, Human Resources

Received: Nov 13, 2015; Accepted: Dec 07, 2015; Published: Dec 11, 2015; Paper Id.: IJLSRDEC20151